THE WORK OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

In order to make room for the captions of the Acts and Resolutions of the General Assembly, we are compelled to crowd out editorials and communications prepared for this issue.

During the session, a period of sixty-eight working days, over seventeen hundred bills and resolutions were introduced, and of these only one hundred and twenty remained on the calendar on the day of adjournment. This would make an average of about twenty-five per day, introduced in both Houses. A great deal of hard work was done in the Committee rooms, which may never appear to the public.

There were some subjects that did not receive due care and consideration at the hands of the Legislature, which should have been acted on in preference to others of minor importance. One of the former is the matter of immigration, concerning which nothing was done. This is to be regretted. During the last week there was too much haste, as is always the case towards the close of the session. In all matters, both of a public and private character, the Legislature ought to have acted with caution, vigilance, firmness and due deliberation. It would have been better to have deferred some of the business to the next session, rather than rushed it through at the eleventh hour, in order to adjourn on the 3rd of March.

A cursory glance at the acts which have been passed will show the people that their Representatives have not been idle. On the contrary, they have done a greater amount of work than any previous Legislative body in the same length of time. The have doubtless done some things they ought not to have done, but they have done a great many things that will redound to the benefit of the State, as we have heretofore shown.

We not only give the captions of the Acts and Resolutions passed by the General Assembly, but have had prepared, at considerable labor and expense, a full and accurate synopsis of the same, so that our readers have, in condensed form, the whole work of the entire session.

We believe such a complete and thorough analysis of the laws has never before been compiled in so short a time, after the adjournment of the Legislature.

THE LEGISLATURE—WHAT THE PRESS SAYS.

(From the Battleboro Advance.)

The Legislature adjourned last Monday after a session of about three months. Upon the whole it has done well. The Democrats had a majority of twenty-four, and whatever of credit or blame attaches to the conduct of the Legislature will fall upon our party.

The course of a few members, elected as Conservatives, is deserving of the severest criticism and condemnation for the part they played in the Senatorial election. They will meet censure from their constituents, as they are content to leave the matter with them, though the effect of their conduct is not confined to their own counties.

On the subject of the usury law, we think the majority are behind the times. But this is not a vital question and will be all right yet.

On Railroads the Legislature was very liberal in granting charters, while they wisely abstained from making any appropriations.

On the subject of education, the Legislature looks practical in providing that there shall be a school in every district for at least four months in the year. [If the voters in each township vote for the additional tax for that purpose.—Ed. News.]

The rescinding the Penitentiary contract was a good move. By the action of the Radical Legislature of 1868, a contract had been entered into with parties from Ohio, by which the State would be involved several hundred thousand dollars and with a profit to the contractors of over one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

The Legislature broke up that beautiful arrangement by paying the contractors thirty-five thousand dollars to relinquish the contract. By this one act the Legislature saved the State over two hundred thousand dollars!

(From the Rocky Mount Mail.)

The Legislature adjourned last Monday to meet again in November next. Whatever may have been its shortcomings, we must credit it with having made many good and wholesome laws. It has done much towards advancing the material prosperity of the State, and it has made no railroad appropriations. However much we may regret the action of certain members of the Legislature in the Senatorial election matter, and however much we may feel that the session was too long, we must still remember that no body of men were ever so hampered down and bound as was the last Legislature. Confined and limited in its action by a Radical Constitution, it has worked under disadvantages—disadvantages, which the people of North Carolina will recognize next August, by ratifying the amendments to the Constitution passed by this body.

(From the Kinston Gazette.)

THE LEGISLATURE.—This body adjourned on last Monday at 1 o'clock, P. M., after having been in session 70 days, which, compared with other sessions since the war, was a remarkable short one for the amount of labor performed, and what is still more remarkable, there was a full quorum in both houses at the hour of adjournment.

They have done a large amount of work, the most of which will reflect great credit upon them as a body, while we are free to think that they have sadly failed in the particulars of vital interest to the State.

(From the Norfolk Journal.)

N. C. LEGISLATURE.—The Legislature of North Carolina adjourned Monday last after a busy session of sixty-eight working days. Probably no preceding Legislature of that State has exhibited a greater degree of industry, or within the same space of time accomplished as much important legislation tending to the material improvement and development of the State.

The Assembly had numerous and serious difficulties and embarrassments to contend with from the outset, hampered as they were at every step by a crude, absurd and inconsistent Constitution of Radical manufacture; a code of laws and statutory enactments all in a state of such inextricable confusion, that the most astute lawyer could not tell what parts of the old law were repealed, modified or amended, or which parts of the new were valid, and in actual operation. These and various other difficulties, did much to retard the progress of legislation, and but for the energy and astuteness displayed by the members in general, might have defeated many schemes productive of good to the Commonwealth.

THE RALEIGH NEWS reviews at length the labors of the session just closed in the different departments of internal improvements; constitutional amendments; codification of the laws; criminal enactments, education, &c., and closes with a flattering tribute to the energy, industry, wisdom, and moderation of the Legislature from the beginning to the end of the session. With the exception of the unfortunate struggle over the Senatorial election, in which the regular normal law was defeated, there is little to censure in the conduct of any of the Conservatives of the Legislature, while the great majority of them have in all cases stood steadfast, firm, and united.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Lizzie Alston was arrested yesterday at the instance of Julia Stuart, all colored, charged with larceny. Julia Stewart's house was broken open Friday night of jewelry and clothing taken therefrom. Yesterday the prosecutor found on the defendant a pair of earrings, which she says were hers, and taken at the time of the house-breaking. The investigation was thorough and protracted, being conducted on behalf of the prosecution by T. M. Argo, Esq., and on behalf of the defence by Judge D. G. Fowle. The ownership of the earrings was not denied by the defence, but the larceny, by the defendant, was. The State soon abandoned the larceny count, and relied simply on the count charging the receiving of stolen goods. The investigation developed facts which created suspicion that the defendant's sister, Louisa Alston, was the thief; and at the request of the counsel for the prosecution, the judgment in Lizzie Alston's case was suspended till after inquiry should be made into Louisa's case. Louisa was thereupon taken into custody, and an investigation had. The mother swore that she bought the earrings from a girl and presented them to her daughter Lizzie. There was no positive contradictory evidence, but simply circumstantial, and not of a very convincing character. Mr. Argo recapitulated the evidence, stated the facts as shown by it, and not regarding the State's case, he opened one of the barrels to say whether, in its judgment, a grand jury should further conduct the investigation. Judge Fowle insisted that there was not sufficient testimony to justify a binding over, and that unless the court believed the mother, Lydia Alston, had committed perjury, the possession of the goods was sufficiently accounted for. The court being of opinion that the evidence did not show probable cause, discharged the defendants.

He opened one barrel and set it out in front--with the following placard conspicuously placed on it: "Samples free--twenty barrels more of same sort to dispose of." This notice was given at 9 o'clock, we heard of it at 9:20, and 9:20, sharp, reached the spot, just in time to see that apples had been in the barrel. His liberality was amply rewarded, as he closed out a good part of the remainder during the day, and not as samples. Who will set out the next barrel? Don't all speak at once. One barrel a day will satisfy us, if notified in time.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.
SUNDAY NIGHT'S TELEGRAMS.
Washington News.—The Office-Seekers Postal News, &c.
WASHINGTON, March 10.—It is supposed the debate on the Caldwell case will continue two or three days, as four or five Senators are prepared to make speeches. The debate will be under the management of Senator Morton, Chairman of the Committee on Privileges and Elections. This is different from any other case of disputed election ever considered or determined by either House of Congress. There are no precedents in parliamentary laws in relation to buying out an opposing candidate and his followers to secure an election to Congress, and, therefore, this case attracts much interest, particularly among the political leaders.

Not only are many personal applications made for office, but numerous letters are received daily by the President and the several heads of departments. On Saturday the mail brought more than one hundred letters to Secretary Fish. It is known from official sources that there will be but comparatively few changes, and these for satisfactory reasons to the appointing power. Much of the time of the President, during last week, was occupied in responding to the congratulations of the large number of visitors attending the inauguration.

Minister Morey will soon leave Washington for Japan, but will return in the fall to resume his diplomatic duties here.

It is held by the Post Office Department that the recent decision of the Attorney General that double postage should not be collected at the office of delivery on the unpaid portion of letters partly prepaid by at least one full rate, does not apply to mailable matter of the third class, namely, pamphlets, occasional publications, magazines, unsold circulars, books, book manuscript, &c.

By the act of January 9th, 1873, all mailable matter of the third class must be fully prepaid by stamps at the office of mailing, and if not thus fully prepaid should be held for postage and not forwarded to its destination. If, however, through the inadvertence of the Postmaster at the mailing office such matter should be mailed without such full prepayment, by sec. 102 of the postal code, the Postmaster at the office of delivery must charge and collect double the prepaid rates. The Post Office Department in a circular requires Postmasters to carefully observe the following instructions, based on the amendments to the one hundred and thirty-third section of the new postal law: Packages of seeds, roots, bulbs and scions, not exceeding four pounds in weight, are to be mailed at a prepaid postage of 1 cent for each two ounces or fraction of an ounce. Said packages must be put up so that the contents can be readily examined without destroying the wrappers. Sealed bags, made of material sufficiently transparent to show the contents clearly without opening, may be used for such matter. This, as well as all other third-class mail matter, must be fully prepaid by postage-stamps affixed, otherwise the same shall not be forwarded.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.
Washington News.—Appointments and Confirmations.
WASHINGTON, March 10th.—Supreme Court to day in Humphrey et al. vs. Peques, from the Circuit Court of South Carolina decided that the Cheraw and Darlington R. R. Company in South Carolina is by the laws of the State exempt from taxation, and that the law of 1868, enacted to repeal this exemption is void. The court decides it is too late to raise the question whether a State has the power to bind itself in relinquishing a taxing power, and such a provision of exemption is a contract which the State may not subsequently impose.
Other cases involving the same principle will be decided in favor of the anti-tax.

The Republican Senatorial caucus met, before adjournment, in the Senate this afternoon to consider the demand of the Democrats for an increased minority representation on committees, and after some discussion, the matter was referred to a sub-committee of five for a report at an adjourned meeting to-morrow. The sub-committee consists of Stewart, Conklin, Scott, Wright and West. The caucus reconsidered Saturday's vote regarding the case of Patterson, and decided not to take it up for consideration in the Senate, no action being possible for the reason Patterson is no longer a member of the body.

The Comptroller of the Currency, in the statements which have just been sent out, has abbreviated to a considerable extent the schedules which accompany the reports, and required the banks to report the daily reserve, and the preceding 30 days, and the high rate of interest paid on daily balances. The reports of Comptroller of the Currency and of the National Bank Examiner upon the condition of the banks, Savings of Trust Company of the city, was intended to furnish Congress with information with reference to technical violations of the law under which the institution was organized. The security upon which the loans were made is considered by the Comptroller and the Examiner, with few exceptions, good for the amount loaned. That nothing in the report which corrects the impression that the bank cannot respond to the demand of depositors. The Examiner states that the executive officers are, in his opinion, men of the most undoubted integrity of character, and devoted to the best interests of the institution, who have educated themselves to a practical knowledge of the business of the institution, and promises a prosperous future for the institution. The Comptroller of the Currency states that the bank was able to correct the mistakes already made, and continue a business of usefulness to the class of depositors, whose benefit the institution was organized.

The following nominations have been made: Jno. G. Clark, Postmaster at Savannah, Ga.; Edwin Belcher, Postmaster at Macon, Ga.; J. M. D. Postmaster at Atlanta, Ga.; R. S. T.
